patient state